

Administrative hassle: "Because our baby is only 6 months old, waiting at the hospital for an additional 4 hours after discharge is challenging. Following the bill department's suggestion, they mentioned that we can later submit our bills to the insurance company. This option is more convenient for us since spending another 4 hours at the hospital would be difficult for both you, your child, and your wife.